Purpose of the plan

This plan examines potential risks and issues that could cause disruption to the examination and assessment process at Langley Park School for Boys. By outlining actions/procedures to be invoked in case of disruption it is intended to mitigate the impact these disruptions have on our processes.

Alongside internal processes, this plan is informed by the Ofqual (and Northern Ireland Council for the Curriculum, Examinations and Assessment) 'Exam system contingency plan: England, Wales and Northern Ireland' which provides guidance in the document 'What schools and colleges and other centres should do if exams or other assessments are seriously disrupted' and the 'JCQ Joint Contingency Plan' in the event of widespread disruption to the Examination System in England, Wales and Northern Ireland and the JCQ document Preparing for disruption to examinations.

This plan also confirms that Langley Park School for Boys is compliant with the JCQ regulation (GR 5.3) that the centre has in place for inspection that must be reviewed and updated annually:

- a written contingency plan which covers all aspects of examination/assessment administration and delivery

Contingency arrangements

In accordance with the regulations (GR 3.17-19), Langley Park School for Boys must have an up to date written contingency plan.

The contingency plan must cover all aspects of examination/assessment administration and delivery. Senior leaders must have robust contingency arrangements in place that will minimise the risk to examination/assessment administration and delivery and any adverse impact on candidates.

The plan must cover the following scenarios:

- the head of centre, relevant senior leader(s) with oversight of examination and assessment administration, SENCo (or equivalent role), examinations officer or any other key staff essential to the examination process being absent at a critical stage of the examination cycle
- the potential impact of other events such as flooding which could lead to all or parts of the centre becoming unavailable
- potential issues with the centre's IT systems

As part of the contingency plan the centre must identify an alternative site or alternative sites which can be used if examinations cannot be conducted at the registered address. Larger centres may require more than one potential alternative site or different sites for different year groups.

Langley Park School for Boys must have at least one senior member of staff (senior designated contact) who is available to manage emergency requests from awarding bodies that are results related during the summer holidays. However, a number of contacts can be provided to reduce the risk of this falling on one individual throughout the summer holidays.

Langley Park School for Boys must ensure where candidates' work is produced electronically it is backed-up and should consider the contingency of candidates' work being backed-up on two separate devices, including one off-site back-up. Appropriate security arrangements must be implemented which protect candidates' work in the event of IT system corruption and cyber-attacks.

National Centre Number Register and other information requirements

In accordance with the regulations (GR 5.3), the head of centre will ensure that Langley Park School for Boys completes the National Centre Number Register annual update by the end of October every year (even if there are no changes to centre details) which includes providing senior designated contact details (this might include a personal mobile number and/or email address). These must be the contact details of someone who can be reached in an emergency if the centre is closed over the summer and who can mobilise resources to respond to the issue.

Head of centre /senior leader(s) with oversight of examination and assessment administration absence at a critical stage of the exam cycle

In the unlikely event of the absence of Ms Suzanne Munday (Head Teacher/Head of Centre) main duties and responsibilities will be escalated and undertaken by Mr Paul Sarson & Mr Richard Guy (Deputy Head Teachers), in accordance with the LPSB Escalation Process.

In the extremely unlikely event of the absence of both Ms Suzanne Munday (Head Teacher/Head of Centre) and Mr Paul Sarson (Senior Leader with oversight of exams/assessment administration) main duties and responsibilities will be escalated and undertaken by Mr Richard Guy (Deputy Head Teacher), in accordance with the LPSB Escalation Process.

Criteria for implementation of the plan

Disruptions caused to exams by:

- Internal/external cyber attacks
- Viruses/malware
- Hard disk failure of local machine
- Power failure
- Loss of students work.

Centre actions to mitigate the impact of the disruption

(GR 3.21) Ensure there are procedures in place to maintain the security of user accounts by:

- ensuring that all members of centre staff who access awarding bodies' online systems undertake annual cyber security training. The training must include:
 - the importance of creating strong, unique passwords for all accounts;
 - keeping all account details strictly confidential;
 - the critical role of Multi-Factor Authentication (MFA) in protecting against unauthorised access;
 - how to properly set up and use MFA for both centre and awarding bodies' systems;
 - an awareness of all types of social engineering/phishing attempts;...
 - the importance of staff quickly reporting any suspicious activity, events, incidents and encouraging a safe and supportive reporting culture.

Certificates of completed staff cyber training must be downloaded and held on file for inspection. The NCSC training resource provides a certificate of completion of cyber training.

- b) developing and maintaining a comprehensive cyber security policy for the centre. The National Cyber Security Centre (NCSC) provides resources to assist centres in creating such policies;
- c) implementing and enforcing robust security measures, including:
 - mandatory MFA for all accounts and systems containing exam-related information, including those that interface between awarding body and centre systems, to enhance security and protect sensitive data;
 - regularly reviewing and updating security settings to align with current best practices;
- d) updating any passwords that may have been exposed
- e) setting up secure account recovery options
- f) reviewing and managing connected applications
- g) monitoring accounts and regularly reviewing account access, including removing access when no longer required
- h) ensuring authorised members of staff securely access awarding bodies' online systems in line with awarding body regulations regarding cyber security and the JCQ document Guidance for centres on cyber security
 Authorised staff will have access, where necessary, to a device which complies with awarding bodies' multi-factor authentication (MFA) requirements.
- i) reporting any actual or suspected compromise of an awarding body's online systems immediately to the relevant awarding body

- Antivirus installed on all LPSB computers to protect them from any malicious content.
- Computer policies in place which restrict staff and students from running scripts or tools such as "cmd prompt" or "powershell" from running on the network.
- Firewall in place which protects the computers and the network from any outside threats.
- Student work saved directly to the network so their data is protected should the hard disk fail on the local machine.
- Backup policies in place, in which snapshots of the network are taken 3 times a day at 8:00am, 12:00 and 4pm.
- Auto-recovery enabled, which auto-saves students' work every 10 minutes. This ensures recovery of work from the last autosave only (i.e. can only recover work from the last 10 minute autosave and not previous ones). This protects student's work in case the computer suddenly fails or loses power.
- Backups are additionally saved to tape and are stored off site in case of a major disaster.
- Controlled separate login accounts used for computer-based examinations. These accounts have restricted access, with passwords that change after each use.
- In the event of a critical cyber-attack, LPSB will lock down our network systems in its entirety to prevent further issues/complications. In order to maintain communication and working channels with awarding bodies and external stakeholders, LPSB will:
 - Use an alternative site within the trust to continue work requiring network facilities, on the provision that the alternative site's network has not been affected by the cyber-attack.
 - If all sites within the trust have been simultaneously attacked, LPSB staff would have to work from home using their personal internet access which should be protected by anti-virus software.
 - LPSB will ensure that any internet/network usage at any of the aforementioned alternative sites have a safe network/internet connection prior to working from that site.
 - Email system at LPSB is cloud-based and would not be affected by cyber-attacks to our network. Therefore, email communications would still be in place.
 - If required the IT department will supply a stand-alone laptop which does not have connection to the network, to ensure safe working.
 - IT department to scan files with anti-virus software prior to sending files to awarding bodies, internal/external agencies.
 - If a critical cyber-attack occurs during an exam which is reliant on computer technology/networks, the EO will contact the awarding body immediately to inform them of the situation and to ask for guidance on what needs to be done.

- The above monitored and maintained by IT Trust Network Manager.

7. Failure of IT systems

Criteria for implementation of the plan

- IT system corruption affecting candidates' work

Implement appropriate security arrangements which protect candidates' work in the event of IT system corruption and cyber-attacks.

IT General

- Student work saved directly to the network so their data is protected should the hard disk fail on the local machine.
- Backup polices in place, in which snapshots of the network are taken 3 times a day at 8:00am, 12:00 and 4pm.
- Auto-recovery enabled, which auto-saves students' work every 10 minutes. This ensures recovery of work from the last autosave only (i.e. can only recover work from the last 10 minute autosave and not previous ones). This protects student's work in case the computer suddenly fails or loses power.

Results

Centre actions to mitigate the impact of the disruption.

- Exams Officer to contact awarding bodies as soon as possible for advice.
- Exams Officer and SLT to communicate with parents, carers and candidates regarding solutions.
- In situations where a large number of candidates will arrive late due to circumstances beyond their controls (e.g. local traffic incidents) LPSB will consider moving the starting times of the examination for all candidates (see section 6.2 of the JCQ publication Instructions for conducting examinations). In this situation the rules for very late candidates will be observed based on JCQ and awarding organisation guidance.
- Should a significant number of candidates need to be isolated due to sickness, use Drama or Dance studios as a first option.
- Exam Officer to apply for Special Consideration if minimum requirements are met. Wherever possible, it is always in the best interest for candidates to sit the examination. However, if candidates who are unable to sit the examination meet the criteria, special consideration through absence for acceptable reasons is an option (see Chapter 4 of the JCQ publication A guide to the special consideration process: <https://www.jcq.org.uk/exams-office/access-arrangements-and-special-consideration/regulations-and-guidance/>)

11. Centre not being able to open for examinations (including in the event of the centre being unavailable for examinations owing to an unforeseen emergency).

Criteria for implementation of the plan

Centre may not be able to open as normal for scheduled examinations.

Centre actions to mitigate the impact of the disruption.

- The responsibility for deciding whether it is safe for a centre to open lies with the head of centre who is responsible for taking advice or following instructions from relevant local or national agencies.
- Information on what centres should do if examinations or other assessments are seriously disrupted can be found on the following government web page 'What schools, colleges and other centres should do if exams or other assessments are seriously disrupted'

Criteria for implementation of the plan

- Awarding organisations to provide centres with electronic access to examination papers via a secure external network. Examinations Officer to liaise with awarding bodies regarding this matter.
- Exams Officer to ensure that any electronic copies are received and printed under secure conditions, which may mean closing the reprographics room to all staff except for exams staff while printing takes place.
- Exams Officer to ensure all papers are kept securely until needed.
- As a last resort, and in close collaboration with centres and regulators, awarding organisations to consider scheduling the examination on an alternative date.

13. Delay in collection arrangements for completed examination scripts.

Criteria for implementation of the plan

Criteria for implementation of the plan

- For examinations that are part of the DfE 'yellow label' service, or where awarding bodies arrange collections, the Exams Officer will seek contact the relevant awarding bodies for advice and instructions.

- The school will not make any arrangements for the transportation of these scripts without the approval of the awarding body.
- For any examinations where the school makes its own collection arrangements for transportation, the school should investigate alternative options that comply with the requirements detailed in the JCQ document Instructions for Conducting Examinations.
- The Exams Officer will ensure secure storage of completed examination scripts until as close to the collection time as possible.

Ofqual

What schools and colleges and other centres should do if exams or other assessments are seriously disrupted

This document was updated in October 2023 to include Ofqual's final decisions on long-term resilience arrangements, and the Department for Education (DfE)'s guidance for education settings with confirmed reinforced autoclaved aerated concrete (RAAC),

In addition to this guidance, you will need to be aware of your specific responsibilities for local and national school preparations and contingencies. You should also follow advice from relevant public health bodies.

Contingency planning

Awarding organisations are required to establish, maintain and comply with an up-to-date detailed written contingency plan, to mitigate any incident they have identified may occur. This includes having communication plans for external parties (Ofqual General Condition of Recognition A6). Schools and colleges should also be prepared for possible disruption to exams and assessments and make sure staff are aware of these plans.

Disruption to assessments or exams

In the absence of any instruction from the relevant awarding organisation, you should make sure that any exam or timetabled assessment takes place if it is possible to hold it. This may mean relocating to alternative premises. You should discuss alternative arrangements with your awarding organisation if:

- the exam or assessment cannot take place.
- a student misses an exam or loses their assessment due to an emergency, or other event, outside of the student's control.

You may also wish to see the JCQ's notice to centres on exam contingency plans and JCQ's notice on preparing for disruption to examinations in England, Wales and Northern Ireland for qualifications within its scope.

Steps you should take:

Exam planning

Review your contingency plans well in advance of each exam or assessment series. Consider how, if the contingency plan is invoked, you will comply with the awarding organisation's requirements.

Schools, colleges and other exam centres must speak to the relevant awarding organisations as soon as possible if they are expecting any disruption that might affect the sitting of exams and assessments.

In the event of disruption

1. Contact the relevant awarding organisation and follow its instructions.
2. Take advice, or follow instructions, from relevant local or national agencies in deciding whether your centre can open.
3. Identify whether the exam or timetabled assessment can be sat at an alternative venue, in agreement with the relevant awarding organisation, ensuring the secure transportation of questions papers or assessment materials to the alternative venue.
4. Where accommodation is limited, prioritise students whose progression will be severely delayed if they do not take their exam or timetabled assessment when planned.
5. In the event of an evacuation during an examination please refer to JCQ's Centre emergency evacuation procedure.
6. Communicate with students, parents and carers any changes to the exam or assessment timetable or to the venue.
7. Communicate with any external assessors, invigilators or relevant third parties regarding any changes to the exam or assessment timetable.

After the exam

1. Consider whether any students' ability to take the assessment or demonstrate their level of attainment has been materially affected and, if so, apply to the relevant awarding organisation for special consideration.
2. Advise students, where appropriate, of the opportunities to take their exam or assessment at a later date.
3. Ensure that scripts are stored under secure conditions.
4. Return scripts to awarding organisations in line with their instructions. Never make alternative arrangements for the transportation of completed exam scripts, unless told to do so by the awarding organisation.

Steps the awarding organisation should take:Exam planning

1. Establish and maintain, and at all times comply with, an up to date, written contingency plan.
2. Ensure that the arrangements in place with centres and other third parties enable them to deliver and award qualifications in accordance with their conditions of recognition.

In the event of disruption

1. Take all reasonable steps to mitigate any adverse effect, in relation to their qualifications, arising from any disruption.
2. Provide effective guidance to any of their centres delivering qualifications.
3. Ensure that where an assessment must be completed under specified conditions, students are able to complete the assessment under those conditions (other than where any reasonable adjustments or special considerations require alternative conditions).
4. Promptly notify the relevant regulators about any event which could have an adverse effect on students, standards or public confidence.
5. Coordinate its communications with the relevant regulators where the disruption has an impact on multiple centres or a wide range of learners.

After the exam

Consider any requests for special consideration for affected students; for example, those who may have lost their internally assessed work or whose performance in assessments or exams could have been affected by the disruption.

If any students miss an exam or are disadvantaged by the disruption

If some of the students have been adversely affected by the disruption, you should ask the awarding organisation about applying for special consideration.

Decisions about special consideration, when it is or is not appropriate, is for each awarding organisation to make. Their decisions might be different for different qualifications and for different subjects, depending on their specific policies.

See also JCQ's guidance on special consideration

Wider communications

The regulators, Ofqual in England, Qualifications Wales in Wales and CCEA Regulation in Northern Ireland, will share timely and accurate information, as required, with awarding organisations, government departments and other stakeholders.

The DfE in England, the DfE in Northern Ireland, and the Welsh Government will inform the relevant government ministers as soon as it becomes apparent that there will be significant local or national disruption, and ensure that they are kept updated until the matter is resolved.

Awarding organisations will alert the Universities and Colleges Admissions Service (UCAS) and the Central Applications Office (CAO) about any impact of the disruption on their deadlines and liaise regarding student progression to further and higher education.

Awarding organisations will alert relevant professional bodies or employer groups if the impact of disruption particularly affects them.

Widespread national disruption to the taking of examinations or assessments.

As education is devolved, in the event of any widespread sustained national disruption to examinations or assessments, national government departments will communicate with regulators, awarding organisations and centres prior to a public announcement. Regulators will provide advice to government departments on implications for examinations and assessments, including exam timetables.

In September 2023, Ofqual and the DfE published joint consultation decisions on long-term resilience arrangements. As in 2023, Ofqual has provided guidance on collecting evidence of student performance to ensure resilience in the qualifications system for students entering GCSEs, AS and A levels, the Advanced Extension Award and Project qualifications. For VTQs and other qualifications used alongside or instead of GCSEs, AS and A levels, awarding organisations will provide guidance where needed and will contact schools and colleges with more information.

In December 2022, Qualifications Wales published guidance for contingency assessment arrangements for GCSEs, AS and A levels and Skills Challenge Certificates in the event that a national decision is made to cancel exams. This guidance is still relevant for the current academic year.

The DfE has updated its guidance on handling strike action in schools in England in light of the industrial action in 2023. The guidance recommends schools should prioritise the running of examinations and assessments on any strike days and should review their contingency plans to make this happen. Schools, colleges and other exam centres must speak to the relevant awarding organisations if they are expecting any disruption that might affect the sitting of exams and assessments.

The DfE has also issued guidance for education settings with confirmed reinforced autoclaved aerated concrete \(RAAC\) in their buildings. It includes the need for contingencies for possible disruption to examinations and links to the existing emergency planning guidance.

We will update this page as necessary, with any further relevant links, should national disruption occur.

15. CONTINGENCY PLANNING

15.1 The qualification regulators, awarding bodies and government departments responsible for education have prepared and agreed information for schools and colleges in the event of examinations being seriously disrupted. This jointly agreed information will ensure consistency of response in the event of major disruption to the examinations system affecting significant numbers of candidates. Further information may be found at:

<https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/exam-system-contingency-plan-england-wales-and-northern-ireland>

15.2 In addition, awarding bodies have their own well-established contingency plans in place to respond to disruptions. It is important that exams officers who are facing disruption liaise directly with the relevant awarding body or bodies.

15.3 All centres must have a written examination contingency plan which covers all aspects of examination administration. This will allow members of the senior leadership team to act immediately in the event of an emergency or where the head of centre, examinations officer or SENCo is absent at a critical stage of the examination cycle. The examination contingency plan should reinforce procedures in the event of the centre being unavailable for examinations owing to an unforeseen emergency.

All relevant centre staff must be familiar with the examination contingency plan. Consideration should be given as to how these arrangements will be communicated to candidates, parents and staff should disruption to examinations occur.

15.4 If the event that the head of centre decides the centre cannot be opened for scheduled examinations, the centre's contingency plan must be invoked, utilising the centre's alternative site(s) and the relevant awarding bodies must be informed as soon as possible. Awarding bodies will be able to offer advice regarding the alternative arrangements for conducting examinations that may be available and the options for candidates who have not been able to take scheduled examinations.

15.5 The awarding bodies will designate 'contingency sessions' for examinations, summer 2026. This is consistent with the qualification regulators' document Exam system contingency plan: England, Wales and Northern Ireland.

15.6 The designation of 'contingency sessions' within the common examination timetable is for use in the event of national or significant local disruption to examinations. It is part of the awarding bodies' standard contingency planning for examinations.

15.7 In the event of national disruption to a day of examinations in summer 2026, the awarding bodies will liaise with the qualification regulators and government departments to agree the most appropriate option for managing the impact. As a last resort the affected examinations will be rescheduled. Although every effort would be taken to keep the impact to a minimum, it is possible that there could be more than one timetable date affected following the disruption, up to and including the last contingency day. Centres will be alerted if it is agreed to reschedule the examinations and the affected candidates will be expected to make themselves available in such circumstances. The decision regarding the rescheduling of examinations will always rest with the awarding body. The centre must conduct the examination on the scheduled date unless instructed to do otherwise by the awarding body.

15.8 Where candidates choose not to be available for the rescheduled examination(s) for reasons other than those traditionally covered by special consideration, they will not be eligible for enhanced grading. Centres must, therefore, ensure candidates and parents are aware of the contingency arrangements so that they may take them into account when making their plans for the summer.
